PREPARING FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE NEW REVISED ROMAN MISSAL

LITURGY CHANGES COMING - 3

What difference will the new words make? Some of the prayers contained in the Roman Missal are ancient, from at least the sixth century; others are very new, composed in recent years. The prayers from the past have nurtured and sustained the faith of generations of Catholic Christians. The newly-composed prayers will nourish our faith and the faith of generations yet to come. The words we use at Mass, along with the signs and symbols, our postures and gestures, all shape our faith. As the ancient axiom states: the law of prayer establishes the law of belief.

The fidelity of the new English translation to the Latin texts and the unity of expression in various languages have the power to unite us as members of one body – the Body of Christ. The beauty and elegance of the prayers have the power to lead us to encounter the mystery of God.

Ultimately, the care and attention we direct to our prayers, as indeed to all we do in the liturgy, will energize us for the mission that Christ has entrusted to us, namely, to make God's love and the Good News of the Kingdom known in our world.

In the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy from the Second Vatican Council, we read that "the liturgy is the summit towards which the activity of the Church is directed; at the same time it is the font from which all her power flows" (#10). Participating in the liturgy is the single most important thing we do as Catholic Christians. In the liturgy we are most completely united with Jesus Christ in offering our lives to God. And it is from the liturgy that we are inspired, energized and empowered to do all good works such as care for the poor, the sick, and the dying, education of our youth, work for justice and peace, and so much more.

In sum, the way we celebrate the liturgy, and the words we use in our liturgical prayer are important. Our faith relies on them and the future of the Church does too.

Thank you to Cathy of Satellite Garden Centre for the donations for our beautiful Thanksgiving Display!
