THE CHURCH IS MADE BY THE HOLY SPIRIT

Augustine, who did not know the text that was attributed to that Council (First Council of the Constantinople), always linked the Church with the Holy Spirit, of whom the Church was the temple. This was undoubtedly the meaning of the confession of the apostolic and baptismal faith, with the Trinitarian structure. If, in other words, creation is attributed to the Father, then the redemption is the work of the Word made flesh and sanctification is the work of the Holy Spirit. The third article includes the Church, baptism, the remission of sins, the communion of saints (both holy things and holy people), the resurrection and the life of the world to come. The Church is undoubtedly an object of faith—we believe that it is one, holy, catholic and apostolic. We trace these attributes, however, back to their cause, which is divine and of the order of grace. - I Believe in the Holy Spirit, Yves Congar
