Filled with the Holy Spirit, Jesus went into the desert for forty days. During that time, he did not eat anything. How hard it must have been for him to be strong and resist those things that the devil offered to Him.

Lent is traditionally a time to 'give-up' something, but in preparation for Easter we can also encourage our children to do something and reach out to others in an act of love. Either action can require a great deal of personal strength to follow through.

Pray with our children for the grace to say 'no' to temptation or 'yes' to acts of service.

Please assist us in our project to rebuild the church front stairs.

Please make sure to clearly write 'FRONT STEPS' on your donation! Thank You!

Reflection: After Jesus had been baptised, He learned His deepest identity and mission.

Now He confronts (as we too must) the great temptations. The Gospel tells us how Jesus fought off temptations by the devil and continued pursuing the important mission for the kingdom of God. First, the tempter urged Him to use His divine power to satisfy His bodily desires, which Jesus dismisses with a word. Having failed at his first attempt, the devil shifts to perhaps the greatest of the temptations: power. Power is extremely seductive. Many would gladly eschew material things, attention, or fame in order to get it. Jesus' great answer in Matthew's account of this story is "Get away, Satan!" To seek power is to serve Satan. Finally, the devil plays a subtler game: he tempts Jesus to manipulate His Father, encouraging Him to jump from the top of the Temple and let the angels save Him. It is like the temptation faced by Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden: deciding how and when God will act.
